Germany scored heavily in Monday's operations. A notable victory was claimed in Galicia with the capture of 8,000 Russians, the western front was firmly held, a successful raid into the Baltic region was reported and several more steamers were sunk, including one big Norwegian vessel.

Japan is trying hard to pick a quarrel with China and is said to be preparing to send an ultimatum amounting to an unreasonable bluff. As China cannot fight Japan, her course would probably be to appeal to Great Britain and the United States.

Ambassador Gerard has brought about an arrangement by which Germany agrees to accord British officers who are prisoners exactly the same treatment England gives German submarine prisoners.

Louisville, Bowling Green, Owensboro, Clarksville and other towns had storms Monday night, but Hopkinsville got off with a breeze and sprinkle.

TIPS OF PULLMAN PORTERS DISCUSSED

Federal Industrial Relations Commission Considers Pay of Railroad Men.

Washington, May 5.—Robert T. Lincoln, chairman of the board of directors of the Pullman company, frankly told the United States commission on industrial relations here that he believed the system of paying sleeping car porters should be changed, and that wages of Pullman car conductors should be increased. Both of these subjects he said would be taken up by the company's directors in the near future.

The son of President Lincoln freely discussed the subject of tips upon which negro porters are compelled to rely for a living. He insisted, however, that employment afforded the negro by the Pullman company has been one of the most uplifting opportunities the race has had.

While declaring his belief that tipping of Pullman porters by the public would continue, even if the meager salary of $27.50 a month were increased, Mr. Lincoln admitted that the wage system for porters was antiquated, and had given him considerable annoyance.

EVERY SEAT FILLED

At The Athenaeum—Banquet This Evening at Hotel Latham.

Secretary Linton has increased the covers for the Athenaeum Banquet from 90 to 120, the full number allowed. Indications point to the largest attendance at any previous banquet. The contracts have been let for music and flowers, and the Messrs. Noe are planning to let the guests into the dining room promptly at 8:30. They will assemble in the hotel parlors half an hour earlier. There will be five after dinner speeches.

HENDERSON AVIATOR

Will Give Exhibition Flights at Fair Ground Tomorrow.

DOES LATEST LOOP STUNTS.

Has Arrived To Make Flights Here Friday and Saturday.

Baxter Adams, the intrepid young aviator of Henderson, accompanied by his mechanic Fred Eels, arrived in the city yesterday and big preparations are being made for the aviation meet at the fair grounds Friday and Saturday.

Young Adams is a Henderson boy and has made a wide reputation in his work as an aviator. He does all of the difficult and dangerous stunts that have cost so many aviators their lives. The flights will be made from the field in front of the grand stand and there will be comfortable seats for the spectators.

The Hopkinsville Motor Club will give a series of races between flights to entertain the crowd. The low price of 50 cents admits to all, children half price.

Accident at Henderson.

The Henderson Gleaner of Tuesday contained this notice of the accident to the biplane of Aviator Baxter Adams:

"Keen disappointment was felt by at least 2,000 visitors who came to Henderson Sunday to see Baxter Adams fly. Great crowds came from Evansville by the boat load and on traction cars, and people from Morgantown, Uniontown, Marion, Owensboro and Princeton, Carleton and Washington, (Indiana) arrived by train and motor at all hours of the morning. Had the biplane been repaired in time for the flight, Baxter would have exhibited to a larger crowd than was ever drawn to Henderson by a single attraction.

When the biplane's propeller was splintered Friday, the promoters thought one could be secured from Hopkinsville, or from some point nearer than the factory at Hammondsport, New York, so the telegraph wires were kept hot for several hours before it was learned that a propeller of the desired dimensions would have to be made at the factory. An order was immediately placed and the part will likely arrive in Henderson today.

Should the propeller arrive today, Baxter will ship his biplane to Hopkinsville tonight and his mechanic Fred Eels, will follow Tuesday morning. Adams has a contract with the Hopkinsville Motorcycle club to fly at the fair grounds, at that place, Friday and Saturday, May 7-8. Flattering terms are named in the contract and the Motorcycle club, the press and the business men of Hopkinsville are advertising the event over all Christian and surrounding counties."

Boy Kills Brother.

Russellville, Ky., May 5.—A .22 caliber rifle in the hands of a younger brother was accidentally discharged, instantly killing Ringle Yeagley, aged 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Yeagley, who reside about three miles south of this city. The bullet entered the mouth and went entirely through the head, severing the spinal cord. The boys had just finished the dinner and started frog-hunting when the killing occurred.

Academy of Medicine.

TO ELECT TEACHERS

School Board Will Meet Tomorrow Night and Reorganize.

FACULTIES TO BE CHOSEN.

Old Teachers Will Be Re-elected With But Few Exceptions.

The School Board will meet tomorrow night for reorganization. A new chairman will have to be elected, as Chairman Ira L. Smith is one of the retiring members. T. W. Morris and J. H. Cate, the two new members, will take their seats for terms of three years.

The regular election of teacher will be held and it is expected that all will be re-elected with two or three exceptions.

Prof. Moore, principal of the High School, and Prof. Sweet, of the Manual Training department, and perhaps one of the lady teachers will not be applicants for re-election.

BIG BLOW IN CLARKSVILLE

Rain and Windstorm Sunday Night Did Much Damage To City.

Clarksville, Tenn., May 5.—The storm which swept over this city Sunday night was one of the most destructive that has visited this section in years. The storm clouds gathered in the south and persons on their way home from church noticed lightning flashes at intervals. Soon the wind arose and by 9:30 the lightning flashes were almost incessant. The wind blew for about five minutes, it is said, at eighty miles an hour. At any rate, the destruction was great. In all directions telephone wires are down and it is impossible to get detailed reports of the damage. However, it has been reported to us that quite a number of barns on the south side of the river were blown down. Several trees on Greenwood avenue were uprooted and the roof blown from Mr. Martin's home, which is known as the old Kendrick place.

The storm probably reached the zenith of its fury at about Rudolph town, where Will Gill had a barn blown down. Emmet Rudolph lost two barns and had another badly damaged. Lacy Rudolph also lost a barn. Many telephone poles were blown across the road, and traffic was hindered by a mass of wires. A tree was blown down at the home of Owen Davis, of near Rudolph town. Mrs. Davis saw the tree fall as the lightning flashed. It seemed as if the tree would surely fall upon the house. Mrs. Davis was so frightened that she suffered nervous prostration.

The Electric Light company, suffered considerably from last night's storm, mainly from trees falling upon the commercial and street lighting lines. Several sections of the city were thus deprived of service, including Madison Extension, South Clarksville and in New Providence. Lightning also played a part, blowing out transformer fuses in various parts of the city.

Blight Begins Early.

Columbia, Tenn., May 5.—Blight, which has attacked the apple crop during the past week will, in the opinion of Former Representative Richard A. Wilkes, of Culleoka, one of the best-known horticulturists of the county, destroy two-thirds to three-fourths of the apple crop of this section.

CYCLISTS CAME BACK

When They Struck The Mud Roads of Todd County Tuesday.

TWO WENT TO BOWLING GREEN

There Were Six Starters And The Route Scheduled Covered 140 Miles.

The endurance contest by motorcycle riders Tuesday was not finished. The riders struck the area of the storm of the day before and one by one dropped out of the 140 mile run scheduled. There were six starters and they left here Tuesday morning. They were: Archie Hopson, Arthur Bowles, W. H. Hester, R. B. Hall, Claude Morris and Culpepper McGee.

The route outlined was to Elkton, Russellville, Adairville, Springfield, Guthrie, Clarksville, Trenton, Pembroke and back to Hopkinsville. Things moved nicely until they left the pikes of Christian county and struck the mud roads of Todd at Elkton when four of them were attacked with cold feet and Hopkinsville looked good to them. Hopson and Bowles struck out for Russellville, which they finally reached. There they learned of the storm and heavy roads towards Guthrie and Clarksville and abandoned the route and struck out for Bowling Green, expecting to find a flock of wild geese, but finding no fowls there to chase they came back home.

NEGRO MAKES CONFESSION

Jesse White Says Coal Operator Had Previously Fired on Him.

Birmingham, Ala., May 3.—Jesse White, a negro, arrested yesterday in connection with the killing of Dr. C. C. Ferrell, a wealthy coal operator and widely known author, made a statement to-day, according to police, in which he said he shot Dr. Ferrell after the latter had fired on him. White said, according to the authorities, that he and another negro were returning from Flat Creek and had stopped for a moment at the commissary building of the coal company, of which Dr. Ferrell was president, when Ferrell appeared with a revolver and began firing. He said he fired in reply and then fled, according to the police announcement.

Members of the Ferrell family told the police last night that Dr. Ferrell, whose home is near the commissary building, had been killed in a fight with burglars.

White denies that he attempted to rob the Ferrell home or any of the mining company's buildings. The negro who accompanied him also is under arrest.

Less Peace Talk.

The London Daily News says that the budget statement, which Lloyd-George introduced in the House of Commons Tuesday, will be a provisional one, on the assumption that the war will last throughout the financial year 1915-16. The assumption that the war will be a long one has been made for some time by the coolest observers.

Kentuckian Wounded.

Evansville, Ind., May 3.—Lucian Merritt, about thirty years old, of Trenton, Ky., was found at Howell, Ind., below here, to-day with a bad bullet wound in his back, and the man is in a serious condition. Merritt says he was shot by railroad men and the officials are investigating.

Scientists have estimated that more than 15 per cent of the earth's crust is composed of aluminum.

AUTO FOR DILLMAN

Road Engineer Given a Car to Use in His Road Work.

MUCH WORK IS ORDERED.

Plans on Foot For The New State Aid Pike on Princeton Road.

The Fiscal Court held an unusually busy session Tuesday and planned so much new work for Road Engineer Dillman that an appropriation of $533.33 was made to purchase a Ford automobile for his use.

The following contracts were let for new sections of pike:

Banks Campbell, half mile on Palmyra road; Lanier and Brinkley, section on Greenville road; C. G. Duke, 2 miles on Buttermilk road.

The Road Engineer was ordered to prepare plans for the new State aid road on Princeton road and report at the next meeting. He was also ordered to advertise for bids for a section on the Julian road.

D. T. Cranor agreed to keep up 40 miles of dirt road to be designated by the Road Engineer if the court would build in the gap of two miles on the Madisonville road, using the ballast rock on the old roadbed of the L. & N. railroad. Bids are to be opened for the work.

The court offers to spend $250 on the hill this side of Lake Tandy if the Hunting and Fishing Club will spend the same amount.

A bridge was ordered over Johnson's creek, on the Kirkmansville road.

It was ordered that 600 yards of stone be crushed for repairs on the Edwards' Mill road.

Another loan of $5,000 was ordered to be negotiated for the county.

T. C. Clark was allowed $60 for patrol duty.

STRUCK BY AN AUTO

Attempted To Cross Pike Just As Machine Approached and Was Knocked Down.

Sophia Boyd, a colored woman, living on the Canton pike, about five miles from the city, was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. R. T. Stowe, Sr., of this city, Tuesday, and sustained some painful bruises about the head. The woman was in conversation with a teamster who had stopped his wagon near her house, when Mr. Stowe came along in his auto. Just as the latter approached the woman attempted to cross the pike and she was struck by the fender of the machine and knocked down. She fell in such a manner that she was also hit on the head by one of the rear wheels of the machine. Her injuries are not regarded as very serious. The machine was only going at the rate of about eight miles an hour when the woman was struck. The accident was unavoidable, as the victim did not attempt to cross the pike until the auto was in a few feet of her.

CZAR'S TROOPS DEFEAT TURKS

Three Days' Battle in Persia Won by Russians is Petrograd's Report.

RUSSIANS LOSE IN GALICIA.

While Germans Report Successes, No Claim is Made of Towns Taken.

London, May 5.—The Russians have had at least a partial revenge for their defeat in western Galicia by badly defeating the Turks who had invaded Persia.

The Turkish defeat took place in a three days' battle near the frontier and Petrograd reports that the Russians inflicted heavy losses. If the success has been followed up, military observers declare that Persia now should be free of her uninvited guests.

This battle, however, was a small affair compared with what Germany and Austria claim to have done to the Russians in Galicia. Their reports state that some 30,000 Russians were captured and that many guns were taken. There was no mention, however, of any towns, such as Gorlice and Tarnow, which were close to the front, being captured, which leads British military critics to the conclusion that while the German allies have won important local successes, they have not driven the Russians far back. Should they do this, however, it is asserted that a general retreat of the Russians would be imperative and that the whole Carpathian offensive, on which the Muscovites have spent so much time and so many lives, would be nullified.

The Russian side of the story is anxiously awaited, for a big success in the east, it is believed here, would mean an immediate commencement of operations on a large scale in the west, for which the Germans already are preparing.

In Belgium thus far the fighting has been confined to the Ypres region, where the Germans claim to have captured some villages which the British say they evacuated in the process of readjusting their line.

Rumors concerning operations against the Dardanelles were confirmed when the British war office and admiralty issued reports stating that after beating off Turkish attacks the allied forces had taken the offensive on the Gallipoli peninsula and now were advancing into the interior. The Turks, on their side, continue to report the defeat of landing parties and damage done to allied warships, which are keeping up a lively bombardment of the Turkish forts, both in the Dardanelles straits and at Smyrna.

It was reported that the Vali of Smyrna was negotiating with the allies for the surrender of his territory. No confirmation of this report has been received. The Germans say they have made further progress with their raid into the Baltic provinces of Russia and that they have defeated the Russians there, as well as along the East Prussian frontier.

German submarines Tuesday sank the steamer Minterne and two trawlers.

Unwelcome Birds.

The blackbird nuisance is breaking out earlier this year than ever before. Usually the myriads of birds come into town to roost in the shade trees late in the summer or early in the fall. This year with the trees hardly in leaf yet, the van guards of the feathered invaders are already here. The people are confronted by the necessity of doing something at once to scare them away. It can be done with roman candles, but fireworks are expensive and the birds come back again. Shotguns will kill some of them, but the game laws and city ordinances prevent shooting as a remedy. There is an urgent demand for boys who can climb the trees at night, catch them by putting salt on their tails.

WHEN SEEKING A NEW HOME

Advisable Always to Ascertain the "Health History" of One's Prospective Abode.

This being moving time with a good many families, the following good advice is taken from the better babies' department of the Woman's Home Companion:

"Guard your family from contagious disease germs in the new house.
It has been proved that thousands of tuberculosis and scarlet fever
cases annually are the result of moving into houses which have not been disinfected.

"Secure the 'health history' of the house you expect to buy or rent. It will be supplied by your board of health, your health officer or any physician who practices in your town.
If it has housed a tuberculosis patient, don't take that house; find another.

"No matter what the 'health history'
of the house, have the plumbing examined, the drains flushed and the entire house disinfected.

"If the walls are to be repapered, have the old paper removed.

"Do not move into any house where the cellar has been flooded and is moldy.

"In towns where there is neither city water nor sewerage system make sure that the well and the cesspool are widely separated."

FATAL KNOCK

"Say, we've got to do something right away to save our city."
"What's threatening it?"
"Why, the story's got around that we don't support our ball club."

WINDOW CLEANER.

A reader of the Christian Science Monitor says she has found that a bag filled with powdered pumice stone is an excellent window cleaner.
She makes the bag of unbleached cotton cloth of a soft quality, not too firm. When finished, the bag is six inches wide and twelve inches long.
Into this she puts about one-eighth of a pound of the pumice stone. To prevent soiling this bag, it is slipped into a cheesecloth case that can be removed and washed. No water is used on the window, but it is rubbed
first with a piece of tissue paper, then polished with the bag.

A FLOURISHING BUSINESS.

"This must be a prosperous community. Every farmer hereabouts seems to own an automobile."
"Yes. There are some wealthy farmers in this part of the country, but our richest man is not a farmer."
"No? what does he do?"
"He owns a garage and automobile repair shop."

Kansas Woman Helpless.

Lawrence, Kan.—Mr. J. F. Stone, of this city, says: "My wife suffered for ten years from womanly troubles, during two years of which she was totally helpless. She was examined by many physicians, some of whom gave her up to die. Finally she began to take Cardui, and since then has greatly improved in health."
The tonic, strengtheners, and restorative effects of Cardui, the woman's tonic, on the womanly constitution, are the most valued qualities of this popular medicine. Cardui acts specifically on the womanly constitution. Half a century of success proves that Cardui will do all that is claimed for it. Try it for your trouble.—Advertisement.

Why Is It?

"Of the 57,000 varieties of things about women's ways that it is impossible for a man to understand," said a quiet observer, "I will mention only one. Why is it that women button on their coats the other way from the way in which a man buttons on his coat? A man's coat is so made that the buttons come on the left side or half of the garment, when it is buttoned. In a woman's coat, the buttons come on the right side. When a woman puts on a man's overcoat
the first thing she says is always this:
'Why, it buttons on the wrong way!'
Of course, the man thinks that the woman's way is wrong, and the only thing that is certain about it is that the man's coat buttons on one side and the woman's on the other."—

Interesting Fact.

Here is an interesting fact which may easily be verified: October al-days. May, June and August always begin on different days from each other, and every other month in the year. The first and last days of the year are always the same. These rules do not apply to leap year.

MARKED CHOATE AT HIS BEST

Great Lawyer's Witty Remarks on the Gastronomical Ability of Porter and Depew.

At one dinner General Porter and
Mr. Depew were both present. Mr.
Joseph H. Choate's face fairly beamed with delight as he extended to them a greeting that brought down the house. "I am sure," he said, "you would not allow me to quit this pleasing program if I did not felicitate you upon the presence of two other gentlemen without whom no banquet is ever complete.
I mean, of course, Mr. Depew and General Porter. Their splendid efforts on a thousand fields like this have fairly won their golden spurs.
I forget whether it was Pythagoras or Emerson who finally decided that the soul of mankind is located in the stomach, but these two gentlemen, certainly, by their achievements on such arenas as this, have demonstrated at least this rule of anatomy, that the pyloric orifice is the shortest cut to the human brain.
Their well-worn title of first of dinner orators is the true survival of the fittest, for I assure you that their triumphant struggles in all these many years at scenes like this would long ago have laid all the rest of us under the table, if not under the sod. And so I think in your names
I may bid them welcome, thrice welcome—duo fulmina belli."

WOMEN Love This Magazine

Come in or write to see a sample copy

McCALL'S is the Fashion Authority and Housekeeping Helper of more women than any other magazine in the world. All the latest styles every month; also delightful stories that entertain, and special departments in cooking, home dressmaking, fancy work, etc., that lighten housework and save money. McCALL'S has been a family favorite for forty-five years. It is the magazine that satisfies.

Mrs. J. T. D., a subscriber of Temple, Ga., writes:
"You may put my name on the list with those who think McCALL'S MAGAZINE is worth twice as much as so cents a year—for every one in the family. So many pretty fashions and so much good reading I can hardly wait to see it."

MORE MELODY FROM ROSSINI

Hitherto Unpublished Works of Great Composer Are to Be Given to the World.

A hymn to Napoleon III and a fanfare called "The Crown of Italy"
have been discovered among the unpublished compositions of Rossini, it is said, on the authority of an article quoted from the Guide Musical in the Musical Leader, which continues: When he died, in 1868, there were found among his papers no fewer than 154 instrumental pieces and songs that had not been printed. His widow was willing to sell them at once, but she demanded such a large sum that they were left on her hands. Five years later they were sold, but only four of them given to the public. The manuscripts are bound in sixteen volumes; among them are seventy-four numbers for the voice, an "album of nothings" for piano, a group of twelve pieces for children, and four, entitled, "Horsd'oeuvre" (radishes, anchovies, cucumbers and butter), which seems to indicate that the composer of "The Barber of Seville" anticipated one of the latest phases of program music.
There is a "Hygienic Prelude" and a set of waltzes with the following titles: "Anti-dance Waltz," "Mourning Waltz," "Valse Torturee," "Halting Waltz," "Boudoir Waltz."

STEADY WORKER

"What do you admire most at the seaside?"
"The working of the tide. It hasn't broken down once since we have been here."

ELECTRIC WATER HEATER.

A very compact little electric stove has been put on the market, which is particularly adapted for heating a tumbler or glassful of water in a very short space of time. The heating element is in the form of a cylinder, slightly under an inch in diameter and about 4 1/2 inches long,
which is provided with a metal cap arranged to fit over the mouth of the glass. This serves to retain the heat and also keep out dust and dirt. The switch in the cover controls the current. The heating element generates sufficient heat to bring a glass of water to a boil in a minute and a half. The device consumes 450 watts.

HARD TO DO SOMETIMES.

"In the old days every gentleman was supposed to go to bed drunk."
"To a certain extent I guess that was true."
"The age of efficiency has put a stop to such conduct."
"Yes. Nowadays, no matter how full a gentleman gets, he has to sit up late and pretend he's sober."

A WHOLE FAMILY.

"What are you doing there with the paper and scissors, Elsie?"
"Making a pig, mamma."
"A pig! You're making a litter."

REMINISCENCES.

"Stay to dinner, old man; such as it is—"
"Don't make excuses, Blinks; I've dined at your house before."

THE NATURAL COURSE.

"Jack says he is going to raise the wind."
"Well, what then?"
"Then, of course, he'll blow it in."

PARADOXICAL SIGNS.

"Why did you think she was nearing a decision?"
"Because she had such a far-off
look in her eyes."

INHARMONIOUS.

Knick—Are the Browns out of tune with each other?
Knack—Yes; there's a lack of domestic harmony.—Judge.

Mrs. Vest Felt Like Crying.

Wallace, Va.—Mrs. Mary Vest, of this place, says: "I hadn't been very well for three years, and at last was taken bad. I could not stand on my feet, I had such pains. I ached all over. I felt like crying all the time.
Mother insisted on my taking Car-dual. Now I feel well, and do nearly all my house work." No medicine for weak and ailing women, has been so successful as Cardual. It goes to the spot, relieving pain and distress,
and building up womanly strength,
in a way that will surely please you.
Only try it once.

HISTORY OF THE HORNBOOK

Dates From the Early Part of the Sixteenth Century—its Advent Into America.

The first English hornbooks appeared in the early part of the sixteenth century, from which period until the reign of George II they were common. They are mentioned in English literature and are the subject of a poem by Thomas Tick-ell, a contemporary of Addison and Steele, Shakespeare, Bunyan, Peach-am and Ben Jonson also write of them. The hornbook was probably brought to America by the early settlers. It is alluded to in writings, journals and so forth dated 1708, 1716 and 1760, although scarcely any originals exist today.

Like all copies and reproductions of any one thing, the editions by various makers deviated. Some of the alphabets are shown with both upper and lower case letters and printed in many styles of type; some hornbooks preserve the prayer while others
show the alphabet enlarged to cover the whole space. Usually the letter
"A" was preceded by a cross, indicative of a pledge of faith, and in recollection that some of the earliest books of this sort appeared in the form of the cross and were connected with religious customs or the belief that learning led to piety. From the cross came the term, "Crisscross row," which was applied to both the alphabet and the hornbook as early as the fifteenth century and as late as the eighteenth, although many forms of spelling were used. Somersetshire folk of England still term
the alphabet the "Crisscross lane."

EVEN IN THE JUNGLE

Baby Monkey—Oh, mamma, look at the man with the big teeth and eyeglasses! I'm afraid!
Mamma Monkey—Don't be afraid,
my child. He's very fond of children.

NOT VERY COMPLIMENTARY.

"Now, I'll pay the fare," said Mrs.
Slopap on the trolley car.
"Oh, I've already paid it," said
her companion, tartly.
"You have?"
"Oh, yes; half an hour ago."
"Why we haven't been on the car half an hour."
"Haven't we? It seems even longer than that to me."

A FASHIONABLE SHOPPER.

"Have you any nicely dressed poultry?" asked the lady.
"Oh, yes, ma'am," replied the butcher.
"Is it cold-storage chicken?"
"Yes, ma'am."
"I don't want it. I want something that is dressed up to date."

RUDE AWAKENING.

"Didn't you ask me to tango
through life with you?"
"I did."
"And now you expect me to put in a good part of the time in cooking, sweeping and dishwashing.
What false wretches you men are."
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A PUZZLE.

"Pop, are people always bad-tempered in courts?"
"Of course not. What makes you ask that?"
"Then why do they always have such cross examinations there?"

SELFISH INTEREST.

"I always take a rosy view of everything."
"I suppose that is because you think pink is becoming to you."

EXCEPTIONS.

"We all like sympathy in our sufferings."
"Not when it comes to a sympathetic toothache."

? What Sort of Fertilizer Do You Want ?

IF YOU WANT THE BEST

The kind that is recommended by your State Agricultural Experiment Station out of their years of experience and their knowledge of the soil needs of Kentucky—the kind that supplies each of the three essential elements of plant food, and supplies each of them in such a form as to feed the crop from seed-time to harvest and to maintain the fertility of your soil—the brand that according to your own State Chemist shows average excess values of $4.00 per ton, while the average of the brands of all other manufacturers showed only $1.40 per ton—we have it.

GLOBE

THE WORLD'S BEST FERTILIZER

It is the product of thirty years of factory and field experiments. It is the brand that year after year has shown the highest rank in the fertilizer bulletins issued by our Agricultural Experiment Station. The different analyses under this brand have been selected and compounded upon the recommendations of our leading agricultural authorities and on the requests of the best farmers of Kentucky. It is sold by the dealers who have the greatest interest in your prosperity, and wherever you find the best farmers and the biggest crops you will find the largest sale of this brand of fertilizer. It is the brand that we recommend.

IF YOU WANT THE CHEAPEST

If you believe in the One-Element Theory, if your soil and crops need nothing but Acid Phosphate—and if price is the only consideration in your fertilizer purchases—we are ready to supply you. The same efficiency that has made Globe the World's Best Fertilizer has produced the World's Cheapest Fertilizer, and it is "just as good" as those other brands which are offered you as "just as good as Globe." This is it

Mrs. C. C. Barnes, of North Christian, Passes Away.

Mrs. Catherine C. Barnes died Monday night at the home of her son, Mr. J. C. Barnes, a few miles north of this city, of pulmonary catarrh. She was 93 years old and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. Funeral services were held at her late residence Tuesday afternoon and the interment took place in the Boyd burying ground, not far from Kelly.

* $100 Reward, $100 *

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Manager Stockley has another big attraction to offer for Friday. Lillian Russell will present "Wildfire" by George Broadhurst and Geo. A. Hobart and a star cast. This is a Shubert feature in 5 acts and the play centers around some exciting horse racing, with more than the usual amount of love, intrigue and tragedy. The climax comes with the heroine, Henrietta, pulling down the flag and the story closes with Henrietta in the arms of her lover, Wildfire having won the race.

FOUR PERSONS DEAD, VICTIMS OF TRAGEDIES.

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—Four persons are dead as a result of two separate shootings that occurred a few hours apart here and at New Albany, Ind., just across the river, yesterday. The men who did the shooting committed suicide immediately after their insane acts.

Richard E. Deputy, 54, a saloon keeper of New Albany, and believed to have been demented, fatally shot George Brooks, 44, his wife's brother, and then turned the weapon on himself. John Zipperle, 30, of Louisville, shot his boarding house keeper, Mrs. Edward Baum, because she refused to lend him ten cents, and then committed suicide. Mrs. Baum died last night.

CAMPAIGNED IN LEE'S ARMY

Peter Morgan, One of The Last Surviving Confederate Body
Servants in Christian County.

Among the few remaining body servants of Confederate soldiers still living in Christian county, the best known is Peter Morgan, sexton of Cave Spring colored cemetery.

He went through the entire war with Captain A. F. Morgan, who took part in all the fierce conflicts of the Virginia campaigns. Peter was with him at Manassas, Bull Run, Petersburg, and was in the advance to Frederick City, Md., within thirteen miles of the Capital. He was at Gettysburg and when Capt. Morgan, who took part in the magnificent charge of Pickett's Division, was shot down, his faithful body servant sought him out and carried him off the battlefield in his arms.

Capt. Morgan survived the war and lived to a good old age and died of apoplexy at his home at Belfonte, Va., in 1908.

Capt. Morgan was related to Gen. Robt. E. Lee and was attached to his personal staff a part of the time. Peter was the cook for a mess of four, Capt. Morgan and other officers, and was about the camp of Gen. Lee a great deal of the time.

In 1867, armed with a personal letter of recommendation from Gen. Lee, Peter Morgan came to Kentucky with Rev. Marcellus Crenshaw, who secured work for him as a railroad hand, until Peter had paid debts incident to his coming. In the spring of the same year he came to Hopkinsville and going to the Western Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, as it was then called, showed his letter of recommendation to Dr. James Rodman and asked for a job. Dr. Rodman looked him over and said: "Anybody with a letter like that from Gen. Lee can get work from me." He put him to work and he stayed there 36 years. He was coachman for 7 years, attendant on a ward for 13 years, yard boss for 11 years, and the rest of the time filled positions of trust and responsibility.

After leaving the asylum he was janitor at the Virginia Street schools for 5 years and at the West Side schools for 5½ years.

When the new colored cemetery was opened by the city and presented to the colored people in the fall of 1912, Peter was appointed sexton and has held the position ever since. He is now more than 70 years of age, but is in good health, erect as an Indian and his faculties are unimpaired. He is a mulatto with few of the features of the colored race. He possesses a fair education and a great deal of native intelligence.

In his dealings he is straightforward, trust worthy and honorable. He is respected by all as one of the very best men of his race. He is a member of the Methodist church and has always been independent in politics, with a strong leaning to the Democratic party. He has always been loyal to the Lost Cause and loves to attend the reunions of the old soldiers in gray. Nothing would give him more pleasure than to go to Richmond next month to the annual reunion, perhaps the last that will ever be held in the Confederate capital city.

Jordan Barker is another colored man from Virginia who also went through the war as a body servant.

He lived in Hopkinsville until a few years ago when he went to Virginia and while there on a visit married a woman of considerable property, who died a year or two later and Jordan has never returned to Kentucky. For years he drove the city fire engine and afterwards was a janitor for churches and public buildings.

is the modern vision of the old patriotic statement.

SILO COSTS

Heretofore farmers have paid for staves, fixtures, excess freights, heavy selling expenses and royalties.

WE OFFER our customers a stave silo with time and labor saving fixtures, made of the very best materials at a price from which has been deducted excess freights, selling expenses and royalties—at the bare cost of material plus a small profit.

We have other bargains in building materials, but nothing quite equal to this,

SURE HARBINGERS OF SPRING

Not the Daffodil, but the Sports That Belong to the Season, Herald Its Coming.

It is a tribute to the "eternal child" carrying all his lifetime in his heart that each grave and reverend senior of Yale plays in the spring when for a day he rolls a hoop and flies a kite and shoots a marble in a ring and plays mumblety-peg and jackstones and every other game that is older than the Petrie papyrus or Amenhotep's tomb.

It is the baseball, not Shakespeare's daffodil, that comes before the swallow dares and takes the winds of March. Every sufficient patch between the lingering snows is an anxiously watched and swampy harbinger of games of one-old-cat, a potential theater of fierce argument between the umpire and the batsman, the latter having always the advantage of a bludgeon in his hand.

You can tell it is spring, not by the first emergence of the snowdrop upthrust in whiteness amid the yellow green of the new grass, not by the purple exclamation points of the crocus or the embryo blossoms out-tracing the bay window—not by these things, but by boys kneeling in brown mud and playing the cueless billiards of the ground.

RECRUITED IN UNIQUE WAY

English Officers Used Somewhat Unusual Method in Raising East Indian Regiment.

An interesting story is told of the way the Thirty-sixth Sikhs, which so distinguished itself in the Tirah campaign, was raised. Its formation was entrusted to Col "Jim" Cook and Capt. H. R. Holmes, and the methods adopted by the last-named officer were somewhat unique. Given a few men of the Fourteenth and Forty-fifth Sikhs, Captain Holmes found a difficulty in obtaining recruits for the new corps. Eventually he went to Loodiana, a fruitful recruiting ground, for the purpose of looking for men himself. Each time he entered a village he challenged the local wrestlers and competed with them on the understanding that all he beat should join the new regiment.

Although some of the native wrestlers beat Captain Holmes and the members of his party, most of the challengers gave in. The result was that in four months he had got together by this very strange method the finest batch of native infantry that ever stepped.—London Tit-Bits.

WHAT MADE HIM SAD.

Bill—He was very sad when he was in here.
Jill—Felt bad, did he?
"Oh, very."
"Did he cry?"
"What?"
"Did he drop a tear?"
"No, he dropped his monocle."

JUDGING BY APPEARANCES.

Bill—Thought you said your dog wouldn't bite?
Jill—He won't. He'll only eat cooked food.
"He bit me."
"Oh, well, he thought you were only half baked."

EVENING THINGS UP.

"Going to stretch your legs," we asked the man who supports thirteen relatives.
"Only the other one," he replied in explanation.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

ANOTHER UNKIND REMARK.

"You never hear Mrs. Woppington saying unkind things about anybody," remarked Mrs. Sasserby.
"That's true," replied Mrs. Gadsley in acid tones. "She knows very well that she can't afford to."

NOISY.

"She puts every cent she can get on her back."
"Yes, and her money talks out loud, too."—Philadelphia Ledger.

ALL AROUND.

"What subject does this chapter embrace?"
"How people keep hugging delusions."

SURE ENOUGH.

Bill—They say a criminal always returns to the scene of his crime.
Jill—What's the good if he gets all the way the first time?

FLOWERS MAKE THE HOME

Writer Ascribes to Woman the Beautification of Abode That Lingers in the Memory.

The difference between a home and a camp is a blossom. Until flowers were planted about the abode of men, until blooms were cultivated, there were no permanent homes, no fixed places of abode. Tents were struck and a new location sought. Attachments were not formed for localities. We were a wandering, shiftless, comfortless lot until a woman trudged in from the thicket and planted a vine or shrub or flower about the tent and called it home.

It was a woman, of course. Man, in his coarseness, never thought of sticking a stem into the earth and having color and fragrance forever in his presence. Only woman could have thought of that.

And since the first good day when the woman planted a flower and loved it into blossoming the home has been a fixity. It has been a center of the affections. The building may be destroyed, the individual members of the family may be scattered to the four winds, but the home remains a fixture in the memory—and the blossoms do not fade or wither in the mind.—Columbus Dispatch.

JOY IN CARING FOR CHICKS

Delight of Incubator Mother Well Set Forth by Writer in the Atlantic Magazine.

What incubator mother can regard without emotion her downy and multitudinous brood in their infantile dependence—she who is to them the Almighty, the author and preserver of their being?

What a pleasure to deal out the wholesome ration, to watch the little crops distend, and to see the downy mites steal away one by one to the sunny corner, there to spread themselves for an after-dinner nap of absolute content!

How comforting to nest them cosily at twilight, to listen to their sleepy chirpings and to secure them from all those night terrors of little chicks—cold and wet, rats and cats, owls and vermin; to insure them that dreamless sleep which is the condition of normal growth in universal babyhood!

How it touches one's heart when some adventurous truant, struck with sudden terror of the vast world into which he has ventured, flies shrieking into one's hands and cuddles there with gradually abating sobs—for all the world like a terrified child!—Atlantic.

EVIDENCE.

"Ma!"
"Yes, my son."
"You remember those pants of pa's you cut down for me?"
"Yes, my boy."
"Well, you cut off the wrong end. They show where pa scratched the matches."

WHY HE WAS THERE.

"And why do you now come and propose marriage to me?" said the sweet young thing. "Did that other girl you were in love with throw you down?"
"N-n-no," stammered the young man; "her father threw me out."

HEARTLESSNESS.

"You say your husband was cruel?"
"Yes. Utterly inconsiderate. He'd insist on playing tunes on the phonograph that my Pekingese pup utterly detests."

THE INDUCEMENT.

"He showed her a fine building lot in a fashionable suburb just before she agreed to be his."
"Ah! A case of love at first sight!"

ITS MOTIVE.

"Did you see where a taube lately dropped bombs on a funeral?"
"I suppose they wanted to make dead sure of a hit."

THE DIFFICULTY.

"The leading man acts with a lot of spirit."
"That's the trouble. He won't act without a lot."

THE MAIN THING.

"Was your last operation successful, doctor?"
"Highly so. It netted me a new automobile."

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armour glistening just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia?

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom.

Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades; through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof. Grousset completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

NEW IN NAVAL CONSTRUCTION

Three-Gun Turret, Recently Placed on American Ships, Is an Innovation of Unknown Quality.

Our new battleships Nevada and Oklahoma with their three-gun turrets may be the forerunners of a radical change in the methods of big-gun distribution on our super-dreadnaughts—unless, indeed, the super-dreadnaught itself is to be driven to the scrap heap by the submarine. The new vessels carry ten 14-inch guns—three each in a bow and stern turret, and two each in two midship turrets raised sufficiently so their guns may be trained over the three-gun turrets. They can thus discharge an "end-side" fire of five 14-inch guns either ahead or astern.

Italy and Austria each has at least one three-gun turret ship, and France is to try a turret carrying four guns.
Up to date, however, there seems to have been no really thorough test of either of these arrangements. The chief advantage claimed for this concentration of big guns appears to be the concentration of fire resulting from
it. Some naval constructors question the practicability of keeping these new
"deck-forts" in good working condition, under the enormous shocks and strains produced by their mammoth broad-sides. There is also some criticism of the policy of putting so many eggs in one basket. Two disabled turrets on the Nevada will put six instead of four guns out of commission.

Not So Bad in America.

"I read in an American paper that well-heated cellars may be used for providing that luxury in January, rhubarb pie," writes V. V. V. in the Sphere.
"not by storing up the delicacy but by growing the plant. The forcing champs are to be buried in a box or tub, covered with sand and watered freely. In from one to three months, it is averted, the rhubarb, nicely
blanched, will be ready for the pie.
This information fills me with dread.
Rhubarb that comes in its natural order is to me so horrible that the thought of forcing it, too, turns me cold."

PORTIERE OF CORN KERNELS

Superior to Those of Ordinary Construction Is the Invention of a Michigan Man.

A Michigan man has made a portiere of corn kernels which is, he declares, far superior to those made of beads or paper tubes used in making the ordinary Japanese kind. He takes ordinary field corn, says Popular Mechanics, and places the kernels in boiling water, where they soak for 24 hours, preparing only a little at a time, as they may sour. The kernels are then strung on No. 8 cotton thread, double from the needle. Each strand is made a foot longer than the doorway to allow for shrinking. Sound kernels are used and care is taken not to split them with the needle. The corn will shrink in drying and should therefore be examined and the kernels pushed together. A loop at one end of each string, all of the same length, is made and all strung on a pole. They are then ready for varnishing, which is done by dipping them in varnish warmed somewhat. They are then hung up to drain and dry. This must be thoroughly done and not too quickly. When dry they are hung on the pole in the door space. The ends of the threads can be clipped even as the kernels will not come off. They may be dyed any color and designs made of different colors of the corn.
But the dyeing does not make as pretty a portiere, the experimenter thinks, as the plain color of the corn.
The length of the strings may be made to suit the maker. A good method is to make them short in the center, increasing to full length at the sides.

Not Too Well Rewarded.

The fact that the annual receipts from cinematograph shows in the United States amount to $150,000,000 prompts the recollection that Muy-bridge, whose experiments in the instantaneous photography of animal locomotion helped to pave the way for moving pictures, received support in the shape of university grants to the tune of $40,000, or not much more than one-fourth of the part of what the moving picture business in the states is bringing in every year. The London, England, photographer who actually invented the moving picture lantern, received nothing for his discovery.

The Hundred-Dollar Look.

One check for $100 given for war relief has a story behind it. The collector in the case was the extremely attractive and favorite niece who had no illusions respecting her uncle's thriftiness. She asked him for a large gift. He chipped in $5. She was disappointed, but put down the item on her list with footnotes. Uncle later got a surreptitious glance at the paper, and read:
"T. Tupper Jones, Five Dollars. Every Little Bit Helps."
The $100 check was dated next day.

Electric Cash Drawer.

A newly invented electric cash drawer, which must be securely closed after using it or a bell will ring until this is done, cannot be opened when partially closed until it has been shut,
and no one can open it but persons familiar with the combination, which is operated by instantaneous touches on three numbered keys.

Adversity.

A high character might be produced,
I suppose, by continued prosperity, but it has very seldom been the case. Adversity, however it may appear to be our foe, is our true friend; and, after a little acquaintance with it, we receive it as a precious thing—the prophecy of a coming joy. It should be no ambition of ours to traverse a path
without a thorn or a stone.—Charles H. Spurgeon.

A Good Lap Holder.

"What is your grandmother good for, anyhow?" asked a teasing ten-year-old boy of six-year-old Tom.
"She's too old to work and too fat to run about and play with. What is she good for, anyhow?" "Well, she's good to hold me on her lap," was Tom's reply, "and I kin fist belt the stuffing out of anybody that has anything to say agin my grandma."

TROUBLED BY VIVID DREAMS

Soldiers on Service in the Trenches
Are Greatly Affected by Their Terrible Experiences.

Naturally enough the normal dream life of the soldier is profoundly affected by his novel and oftentimes terrible experiences at the front. A British army surgeon in charge of one of the field hospitals has taken the trouble to make inquiries of his patients regarding their dreams. Some of them had developed somnambulism, and were often found wandering about in their sleep with great terror and anxiety depicted on their faces. The explanation usually lay in a dream that they had lost their regiments. In fact, this dread of losing contact with their fellows seemed to be the commonest cause of nightmare.

They dreamed they were wandering through endless trenches as complicated as an artificial maze, or were lost alone in dismal forests. The slightest noise during sleep called up visions of exploding shells or the tramp of armed men, often causing them to cry out in fright. In the face of real danger these dreamers of terror were quite as brave as their fellows. Another common night-terror was the dream of a sudden call to arms to which they were unable to respond because of inability to find some indispensable article of attire or equipment.

Hatch Pullets Early.

If the farmer wishes to benefit by the high prices that eggs are certain to bring next fall and winter, he should begin to get ready for them at once, say the poultry specialists in the United States department of agriculture. The way to have eggs late in the year is to hatch early. It is the early hatches from which the early pullets are derived that are the largest money-makers for the poultry producer. The early hatched cockerels can be marketed in almost any market in America when they attain a weight of three-fourths of a pound to a pound and a half each, which they should reach in about six to ten weeks of age, respectively, at a greater profit than at any other time of their lives. The early hatched pullets, if properly grown, should begin to lay in the fall at the time when eggs are scarce and high in price.

First Lifeboat Station.

One hundred and twenty-nine years ago the Massachusetts Humane society built its first hut on Lowell's island, near Boston, to succor the stranded mariners along the dangerous and desolate Cape Cod coast.
From that little dark red hut, the first house of mercy of the sea to be erected, arose a score of like huts along the coast that had been bleached with the bones of sailors for two centuries. In 1807 the first lifeboat station was organized at Cohasset and out of that sprung the most efficient life-saving service of all the seven seas.

"Mr. Fowler called again this morning," said the new office boy as Mr.
Wilson entered the office. "Did you tell him I had gone to California, as I told you, Frank?" "Yes, sir." "What did he say?" "He asked when you would be back, and I said, 'After lunch.'"—Indianapolis News.

The Secret of a Good Figure often lies in the brassiere. Hundreds of thousands of women wear the Bien-Jolie Brassiere for the reason that they regard it as necessary as a corset. It supports the bust and back and gives the figure the youthful outline which fashion decrees.

BIEN-JOLIE
(THE AN-TO-LEE)
BRASSIERES

are the daintiest, most serviceable garments imaginable. Only the best of materials are used—for instance, "Woolin", a flexible boning of great durability—absolutely rustless—permitting laundering without removal.

They come in all styles, and your local Dry Goods dealer will show them to you on request. If he does not carry them, he can easily get them for you by writing to us. Send for an illustrated booklet showing styles that are in high favor.

Playing War.

Murray, Ky., May 5.—"Playing war," William Taylor, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, four miles west of Murray, aimed a loaded shotgun at the face of his five-year-old sister, Rosie, and fired, completely tearing away the child's head above the lower jaw.

MRS. W. H. JESUP

Mrs. Nannie Barker Jesup, wife of Mr. Wm. H. Jesup, died Monday night at her home on Sixteenth street, after a long illness. She was 63 years of age and was a daughter of the late Chiles T. Barker of South Christian. The family lived in Todd county until about fifteen years ago, when Mr. Jesup bought a home here.

Mrs. Jesup was a faithful member of the Christian church. Simple funeral services were held at the grave by her pastor, Rev. J. N. Jesup, assisted by Rev. Geo. C. Abbott, of the Episcopal church. Interment at Riverside.

Mrs. Jesup is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. George Mimms, of Trenton.

Suicide Pact.

The bodies of W. H. Davis, a middle aged man, and Ethel Fulmer, a young woman, were found lying side by side across a bed in a room at Mrs. Dicks' boarding house at Welling, Ala., Tuesday, they having taken poison in carrying out a suicide pact, which was explained in notes left by the man and the woman.

Contract Let.

The Southside sprinkling contract has been let to the Boyd Transfer Co. and service will begin as soon as the sprinkler arrives. It was ordered several days ago. Time lost is not to be paid for.
